Buy Good Land.
Don't Imitate Nature.
Our Best Customer.

—By Arthur Brisbane—

GOVERNOR SMITH, in the farm belt, offers the farmers "immediate and adequate farm relief."

That is what farmers want. If Governor Smith can supply it they will want Governor Smith.

Thousands lined the streets of Omaha to welcome Governor Smith. He understands politics and voters, and was particularly pleased to hear workers from the packing houses calling out, "Hello Al!"

With Henry Ford's co-operation a group of men interested in flying have bought a Philadelphia airport for more than $1,000,000. That will prove an excellent investment, although the present object is not profit.

Men bought corners for beer saloons, years ago, and made millions without planning it. Then men bought corners for chain cigar stores and drug stores and made more millions.

Next came oil companies competing for gasoline stations. Standard Oil of California some day will have in its gas station real estate a profit almost equal to its profit in oil.

Buy good land in this country, take care of it and it will take care of you. But buy GOOD land.

A few years ago Lord Northcliffe paid $50,000 to Brierley, first that flew the English Channel.

A new kind of plane called the "autogiro" or "windmill plane," has just flown the Channel, making "a sensational advance in aviation." This new plane came from London to Paris in four hops.

Henry Ford says: "The right flying machine will go straight up and down."

That is what the autogiro does.

Men do not solve problems by imitating nature but by improving on nature. When you see a bird fly, you see a bird fly. When you see a plane fly, you see a plane fly. When you see a different form of a flying bird as a locomotive or automobile from a running deer.

A machine is coming with which you will arrive vertically from the roof of your house, sail through the air, and descend on the hotel roof, across the continent or on the other side of the ocean.

Uncle Sam's best customer today is our good neighbor, Canada.

Eight hundred and fifty-two million dollars in a year Canada buys the United States for goods imported.

We in turn are fairly good customers of Canada. On Labor Day 1,000,000 thirty American travelers visited Canadian soil, leaving money and thrusting United goods on which there is a big profit.

Canada spends with us $240,000,000 more in a year than we spend with Canada. A war should be fought to even that up, and doubtless will be found. Money travel with him, and wise Canada lets the government take profits on alcohol. Bootleggers don't get rich.

Clergymen in some places are alleged to distribute "anti-Smith" pledges cards, requesting church members to pledge themselves to vote against Governor Smith because he is a Catholic.

What would those clergymen say if CATHOLIC PRIESTS DISTRIBUTED SIMILAR CARDS PLEDGING THEIR PARISHIONERS TO VOTE AGAINST HOOVER?

A strong point in Mr. Hoover's campaign is his sincere denunciation of all personalities and all religious discussion in this campaign.

NAB WRITER IN RASKOB BOMB PLOT

Philadelphia, Sept. 20 (AP)—A 65-year-old man, giving a Philadelphia address, was today held in $10,000 bail on a charge of threatening to blow up the home of John J. Raskob, Democratic national chairman, unless he was paid $400,000.

The letters were addressed to Mrs. Raskob at her home in Claymont, near Wilmington, Del. The first threatened to dynamite the home unless the money was forthcoming.

Mrs. Raskob paid little attention to it, but when the second arrived she turned it over to detectives of the District company.

A trap was laid for the writer, but in the meantime a third letter was received. Mrs. Raskob was instructed to answer it and she did so, advising it to general delivery, Philadelphia postoffice, as directed by the writer. Money called for the letter and was arrested.

Local chapters were urged to form organizations in their respective communities and it was recommended that the young people be formed into groups to carry voters to the polls by automobile on election day.

TWO FATALLY HURT, MUCH DAMAGE DONE AS STORM HITS HUD

Two persons fatally injured, numerous others hurt, and scores of small boats ashore, shipping disrupted, telephone poles felled and trees uprooted, was the toll taken by the strong tropical storm which faded out today after sweeping the New England coast.

A high wind blowing from the west, with gusts, whipped branches from trees, strewn them on the streets, and was accompanied by a heavy rain which soaked clothes in seconds.

At 10:30 p.m. the storm was at its height. The official report of the National Weather Service, issued at 11:30 p.m., said that the storm was a tropical storm, with winds of 75 miles an hour, and that it was moving northward.

FLORIDA BURIES MANY OF HURRICANE DEAD

New York, Sept. 20—Heavy rain, winds in the West Palm Beach section of Florida today related to bury 150 to 200 dead, sought to provide temporary shelter for 1,000 homeless and injured people, to stand off a threat of epidemic following the hurricane.

S. W. Hatt, a Palm Beach county agricultural agent, reported after a tour of the Everglades section on Lake Okechobee, that 600 were dead there and that between 600 and 800 others were missing.

NEW HIGHS ARE SET BY MOTORS

On board were the captain, C. H. McDaniel, of Brooklyn, his wife and two small children, a boy and a girl and his crew of 29 men.

The crew worked night and day. Please Turn to Page 2, Column 3.

survivors if they are unable to reach this area.

NURSE 16,000 INSURED.

Meanwhile the weary-eyed relief workers in West Palm Beach, many of them remaining on the job for 60 hours at a stretch, nursed 16,000 injured and planned to rebuild the devastated area. Carloads of building supplies, along with food and clothing, are being sent into the city.

Hundreds of refugees from the Lake Okechobee district are gathered in West Palm Beach and Miami. National guardsmen are guarding these and surrounding cities.

The center of the storm was along the Virginia coast this morning. It was moving southeast with greatly diminished force, although a female gale, an effect of the hurricane, lashed Atlantic City and other New Jersey coast resorts yesterday and early today, killing six.

Four deaths due to the storm were recorded in New Jersey. Two others were reported in Maryland, where floods followed high winds and heavy rain.

Meanwhile from the West Indies came the report of 50 dead in Guadeloupe, 40 dead in Puerto Rico and six dead in the Virgin Islands.

The gale continued to wreak havoc in the metropolitan district early today, causing property damage estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Homeless persons and bulkheads were washed away and inhabitants of bungalows along Long Island Sound were driven to blizzards ground.

Relief Supplies Pour in to West Palm Beach

West Palm Beach, Fla., Sept. 20.—With the onset of day today, the injured and homeless from Florida's flooded hurricane went toward the storm area today, additional relief was spending to the extent from every direction.

Food, clothing, medical supplies and building material were being sent to the stricken Lake Okechobee area by train and boat, while troops and other conveniences continued their missions of mercy to the injured and sick or brought the dead out for burial.

Adm. Gen. Victor Cullen already was here making a survey of the conditions and Gen. John Martin was on route to head him and his command. Before leaving Tallahassee, the Governor, in response to urgent requests for aid from local authorities, called upon the people of Florida to contribute funds to the relief.

Porto Rico Relief Supplies Landed From U. S. Transport

San Juan, Porto Rico, Sept. 20.—Food supplies were being sent to the hurricane-stricken island, outside of San Juan today under the Croce expedition. The supplies were being distributed by the army for use in hospitals and for the shelter of those who were injured by the storm.

The food was taken directly from the transport ship, which was at the disposal of the Red Cross by Col. George Holmes, commanding the 6th U. S. Infantry.

With actual relief already provided for or plans well under way for it, attention was centered on putting Porto Rico to work to keep themselves and restore morale through self-help. As the President of the employment is largely agricultural, it is thought that the Chamber of Commerce threatened to cut off both merchandise and credit. Where large was needed, however, the organization pledged its members' talent and delay in collection.

Fear Last of Flamingoes Wiped Out by Hurricane

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP).—In addition to the terrible blow dealt at human life and property, the West India hurricane is believed by nature lovers to have dealt heavily with bird and plant life in the western world.

Chief of the conserve of the American Nature Association is that the hurricane may have wiped out the last colony of flamingoes, the "Banc d'Arguin," which once spread its gay goose plumage over the West Indies and southern United States.

These birds, the association says, were almost exterminated by the hurricane of two years ago, and it fears that the few remaining on Andre Island, one of the Bahamas group, could not have survived last week's terrific blow.

U. S. S. Bridge Sails With Relief for Porto Rico

New York, Sept. 20 (AP).—Loaded with more than 2,000,000 pounds of foodstuffs for hurricane-stricken Porto Rico, the U. S. S. Bridge, naval supply ship, sailed at 10:30 a. m. today for San Juan.

The ship was loaded with supplies provided and collected by the American Red Cross. For and storm yesterday delayed her departure.

tion that the customs authorities wish to clear up, but the agents admitted that Walska had made do and proper report of her property before entering this port and that the seizure was made largely on technicalities.

The purpose of the seizure, it was explained, is for the purpose of determining the exact status of Mrs. Walska. There is a question as to whether she is a French citizen or an American citizen. No matter which, the custom men say, she is liable to certain taxes on her goods and other property.

She will claim today a residence in France in an effort to have the customs officials admit her jewels and clothing free.

In any case, the seizure is expected to continue, whether the opera singer has actually been divorced from McCormick or is likely to be McCormick met her at the pier and their greeting was that of a couple of newweds. They hugged and kissed and reporters and camera men recorded it.

Yesterday the Wallaces' 808 ft. schooner, the "Wallace," was taken up by the steamer (Guantanamo) of the Panama Railway Line.

The "Guantanamo" went to the rescue and the ship's family was transferred to her in the high seas. Capt. McFarland and his crew refused to leave their ship. A hawser was finally made fast to the Malabar tower. Hoisted, bound from Cartagena, to Bayonne, N. J.

The "Hawser" is towing the Wallaces to New York through comparatively calm seas today. The "Guantanamo" is scheduled to dock late tomorrow or Saturday.

WHITMAN, POOR FARM BOY, ROSE TO GREAT FAME

Each today removed from the New England textile industry one of its most romantic figures, William Whitman.

Owner and director of nearly a dozen mills, former president of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, and an author of several books on economic subjects, Whitman died at his home in Brookline.

He was 87 years of age. Whitman was married 61 years to Jane Dore Baller, who, with her sons and two daughters, nursed him. The sons are William, Jr., Malcolm D., Eben H., and Henry H. Whitman. The daughters are Mrs. Franklin W. Hobbs and Mrs. J. H. Brown.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Brookline, for the late Mr. Whitman.

Whitman's career was another romantic rise of a poor boy to fame and fortune. It was also the career of an immigrant who became a power in the land of his adoption, for his birthplace was Mendon, N. H.

He was a "farm boy" for 12 years. Then he went to St. John, N. H., obtaining work in a dry goods store at a salary of $1 a week.

Two years of employment in St. John provided the capital for a trip to Boston. Here, possessed of $10 in money and few friends, he took work in a dry goods commission house. Twelve years in this position won him many advancements in the recognition of woolen mill structures.

In a few years he was a leader in the New England textile industry; for many years he was president of the Lawrence plant, which became the Arlington Mills, manufacturing both woolen and cotton goods and expanding under his management to occupy 52 acres of four square miles.

When the American Woolen Co. began its absorption of other mills, the president of the Whitman plant, Mr. Whitman, was transferred to the American Woolen Co., Nashua, N. H., and later to the American Woolen Co., North Adams, the Textile Street Co., Boston, and of the William Whitman Co., Inc., Boston textile commission merchants.

During the last years of his life he was most closely identified with the latter company.

The occupants of both cars were taken to the Melrose hospital, where, with the exception of Spaulding Malt, they were treated for their shortening in the U. S. M. Malt was found to be suffering from a fractured skull and internal injuries.

GIRL HIT BY TRAIN.

The 16-year-old girl had failed to hear the noon-whistle signal, sounded on account of the heavy rain, and was on her way to school. According to railroad officials she stopped to tie her shoelaces on the U. S. M. Malt was found to be suffering from a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Mrs. Laura Schoefer of Thornton st., Roxbury, was injured when her two children on the way when the limb of a tree, torn loose by the wind, crashed down on Cedar st., Roxbury.

In Revere the high wind caused more damage to trees than during any September storm in many years. Prospects, apparently City Hall, Revere, and Park ave. held off Broadway, were blocked by a wall of trees, which threatened this residential section.

TREES ARE BLOWN DOWN.

Superintendent of Public Works Michael H. O'Donnell was forced to call out three men at midnight and they labored until 2 a. m. today to clean up the section. In North Boston a number of trees were blown down and branches torn off.

At Summer Beach the wind short-circuited a cable, leaving the residents without lights for some time, and three small boats were blown ashore. They were made fast to a building. The wind was blowing from the north.

A defect without dragged her from a point off City Point, going ashore on the other side of Deerfield Bay, at Carson Beach, near the bathhouse, apparently without injury. At high tide, the North Shore small craft were reported to have been hurled on the beach or capsized by the gale.

CELLARS ARE FLOODED.

Waves broke over the Lynn boulevard, cellar being flooded in some sections, and a heavy branch was blown from a tree on Shepard st., landing on top of the automobile of Miss Strauss of 32 Crosby st., that city.

The majority of the fishing fleet elected to ride out the storm on the side with the result that the price of fish soared. With the return of good weather it is possible some of the fleet will get in today, thereby lowering the cost of fish tomorrow.

The New York to Providence steamer, New York, Chapin, put in New London, Conn., three colliers, to escape the storm, the 84 passengers according to Travel Bureau by the 20. Twenty feet of the starboard rail had been ripped off when a giant wave broke over the steamer.

COASTAL SHIPS DELAYED.

The steamship Boston from New York, radiated and was held up off Cape Cod and would be several hours late getting to New York. The steamship Camden was still held at Rockland, Me., while the steamer is disabled, while the Belfast remained at her berth in Boston.

The Savannah from City of Birmingham was anchored off Nantuxet, Vineyard Sound, and three colliers, bound light from this port, were held up to anchor off Cape Cod. They were the Arlington and the Camden, and the Black Point for Newport News.

WILKINS BEATS GALE IN TEST

New York, Sept. 20.—Despite the howling gale, the Lockheed-Vought airplane, one of the two to be tested in the Wilkins Coast Antarctic expedition to Graham Land, was taken safely from Farmingdale, L. I., to Miller Field on Staten Island.

First Ben Kilborn, lieutenant of the aircraft, it behaved beautifully, although subjected but a short time to the blasts that rocked the city. The plane is the one which Capt. Hubert Wilkins, leader of the expedition, used in his flights over Alaska last year.

POLLY TO SAIL FOR ITALY TOMORROW

New York, Sept. 29.—A mink coat that cost $10,000, 48 dinner and evening dresses, four ensembles consisting of some 100 pieces of gloves and 100 worth of lingerie are among the clothing Miss Polly Lauder, society belle, is busy packing today for her trip to Italy, where she is to be married to Gene Tunney.

Polly's last night's party was a night and the making of the troussseau is no small matter. For instance there is a cup of pearls that Miss Lauder will wear, instead of a solid veil, when she stands before the priest in Sorrento, Italy, and promises to "love, cherish, honor and obey."

The preparation of the trousseau has been under way for some time. In view of the fact that the wedding is to be performed as near the Vatican, particular attention has been paid to the cut of the gown, that the recent Papal injunctions concerning feminine dress shall be adhered to.

SISTER AS ATTENDANT
Miss Lauder's sister, Mrs. Edwin Scott Leving, who probably will be her only attendant, has selected for her gown a chanel model of red chiffon, over which she will wear a red velvet coat. Thornton Wilder, the novelist, likely will be best man.

The wedding will be a simple ceremony, performed in an inconspicuous chapel by a humble priest.

The Tunneys will travel abroad for a year before they return to the little Greenwich, Conn. home which Gene recently bought for his bride.

During that time Polly's mother and her brother, George, will make their home in Italy.

MAY DELAY WEDDING
All the wedding plans have been made by Gene since he arrived in Europe. Reservations have been made for October 1 for the wedding party at the Tranquillo Hotel in Sorrento, where prices are on a par with those of the Ritz in Paris.

Although the wedding is now scheduled for October 2, Miss Lauder is emphatic in her intention to postpone the nuptials until a later time if the weather then should be bad.

Filene's "Temporary Addition" which opens Saturday is a brand new Filene store at the corner of Washington and Franklin Streets, in the buildings formerly occupied by the Continental and Brockley Clothes shop.

It will sell less expensive lines of shoes, hats, dresses, coats and stockings for women and misses. But while the prices will be very low, the quality will be Filene quality, plus Filene service, including charge accounts, free delivery and the utmost courtesy.

We call this a "Temporary Addition." It is temporary because these departments will be in this form and this location only until such time as both buildings and departments can be absorbed as a unit of the Filene business.

In this new store Filene's will not merely sell merchandise at very low prices. Filene's will, in the "Temporary Addition," capitalize for Boston on the changed conditions in production which make possible worthy merchandise at low prices. In fact several of these lines of merchandise were originally planned as new departments for our main store.

Every day you will find good values in the "Temporary Addition." Naturally we are spreading ourselves for the opening. Not every day can we promise so much for your dollars as our efforts and the cooperation of our manufacturers have made possible for opening day Saturday.

Come Saturday and see Filene's "grow on value."

SLIGHTS LED BY FREED BOY HUNT FOR KIDNAPERS

Chicago, Sept. 20 (AP)—Despite dire threats that he would be slain if he did not preserve the traditional silence of the Mafia, Billy Hammer, 39-year-old Italian boy, freed by kidnapers after being held 12 days in a prison on an isolated farm for a ransom of $100,000, is today leading heavily armed detectives of Chicago bureau detectives in a hunt for his captors.

A possible dragnet, the largest in Chicago police annals acting under the guidance of the chief, resumed here on a heavy farmhouse located on the Fox river, 49 miles from Chicago, and sacked it for possible clues to the boy's abduction. When the house was searched, it failed exactly with the description given by the lad as his captors' lair.

In the midst of the investigation the mysterious Mafia again raised its head long enough to demand of its ilk and victims the solemn warning of the bandits, "say nothing and do nothing," was the critical warning issued from the hidden Camorra.

As the investigation progressed two more Italian suspects were arrested and taken to the office of the assistant state's attorney for questioning in connection with the kidnapping. The identity of these men authorities refused to divulge. However, they indicated that the men occupied a prominent role in the extortion plot of Chicago's "false body."

power companies' view of farm electrification. She was paid while president of the federation, and while the federation was receiving $100 of power money for the survey, George P. O'Leary, chief legal association representative, testified.

BRUCE BARTON PAID
Bruce Barton, author of an inspirational writer, was paid $100 for organizing members' laundry of service and rates sent broadcast to millions of consumers. Barton also sent $100 for addressing a light and power convention in New York.

O'Leary also testified to evidence from the Commerce Department 4,500 reprints of a speech by Herbert Hoover, for distribution among utility companies.

The speech was titled "The Public Interest," and was given by the Federal Regulation of Electric Public Utility.

Prof. James Mavor, author of "Nature in Politics," a violent attack on the publicly operated electric system of California, paid $100 by the light association, according to testimony.

The $100,000-$200 such were made in 1925 by George L. Hixie of the Southern California Edison Company, who accounted for them in vouchers only as made to "The Mutual Friend."

In a telegram signed in the record, Hixie declared the Mavor payments were for information furnished for a study. Hixie himself was then making of certain hydroelectric.

WIDELY CIRCULATED
Mavor's book has been widely circulated by the power interests.

Hixie was paid about $2,500 for salary and expenses of his own.

Although many of the payments of other persons were listed as traveling expenses, the commission found indications that some included for Jackson Marshall, secretary of the National Electric Light Association, was used to give a detailed accounting for them.

William A. Wray, Kansas author and editor, was paid $500 for the book "The Power of the People," which was in connection with his address at the 1925 convention.

John F. Shugart, of Carson City, Nev., member of the Nevada Public Utility Commission and an officer of the National Association of Public Utilities Commissioners, was paid $100. He spoke at the 1925 convention.

Under close questioning by Judge R. B. Leaky, commission chairman, Marshall professed ignorance as to why the sum was so large, or why it was paid in two separate checks for $100 each. Both were dated May 28, 1925.

"You have to travel a long way, and stay a good long while, to run up such traveling expenses," remarked Commissioner Leaky. Mr. Culloch, presiding at hearings in the power issue investigation.

The commission took a week's course, its objective depending on the weather which was glorious at the start. After crossing over Lake Superior, the director sailed on the steamer, leaving over Zurich at 4:30 and back at 9:22. It then turned toward Prague.

John Coolidge to Live With Yale Professor

New Haven, Ct., Sept. 20 (AP)—John Coolidge, son of President Calvin Coolidge, who entered the employ of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad in the general manager's office a week ago, will make his home this winter in the home of Professor Benjamin W. Bacon of Yale divinity school, in New Haven.

Young Coolidge put up temporarily at the graduate club of New Haven after his resignation from the New Haven railroad, but had had his meals and dormitory room there, with his secret service companions.

The club is not for permanent residence, and last night Coolidge moved his belongings to Professor Bacon's home.

Dr. Gilman Howard, Toronto novelist called by the defense, told the jury in support of an insanity plea. "Childs was not responsible for his actions."

After religious differences had been vented their marriage Childs and Miss Yelland drew an automobile over their heads a couple of times and opened a bottle of champagne.

The horse, driven by William M. Delaney of Washington St., backslid toward the wagon when struck in the back by a taxi driver in the Back Bay today.

MEDFORD BOY IS DROWNED IN TRENCH

William Walsh, 14, of Mountain Ave., Medford, was drowned or suffocated today when he water-filled trench in Mountain Ave. caved in as he played near his age.

Young Walsh was a pupil at the Mount Pleasant high school. Heavy rains filled the trench that was dug for pipe laying and temporarily abandoned on account of the storm. The boy was playing near the edge when the water-soaked walls gave way.

Police, fire department and street department men were hurried to the scene in an effort to extricate the boy, but he was dead when the workers uncovered the body.

It was taken to the Lawrence General Hospital and later turned over to Medical Examiner Thomas M. Durell for autopsy.

As big a nuisance as ankle-length skirts and as old-fashioned Painfully tight shoes, carelessly designed and ill-fitting, are just as absurd to the active, busy woman of the modern world as puffed sleeves and floor-sweeping skirts were. She has no time to waste on such outlandishly needless nuisances as tormenting feet.

Women today know that comfort, ease, perfection of fit are the basic rules for all their shoes. They know that in Coward shoes they get all this modern combination along with the most modern of shoe styles. This is delightfully true, whether the shoes you like are walking shoes, sport oxfords, more elaborate afternoon slippers, or delicate evening things of thoroughgoing vanity. Try some of the new styles here and see!

GRAND JURY TO QUIZ BARNES IN ALBANY POOL

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—Charles H. Barnes, Boston attorney, who came to Albany last night to "make good" his statements regarding operation of the so-called Albany baseball pool, was under summons today to appear before the Albany county grand jury.

The summons was served on Mr. Barnes on his arrival here at the request of Governor Smith to reveal any evidence of pool operations he might have.

The serving of the summons came as a surprise to Barnes, who said he came with the idea of serving as special prosecutor, or at least as assistant district attorney, in running down bad "higher ups."

"I was going to get, Mr. Murphy, here tomorrow anyway," he said, "so that the summons was hardly necessary. However, it will serve the purpose and I shall be able to see whether there is a real thing or not to the bottom of the baseball pool."

Mr. Barnes, who was defeated in this week's Massachusetts Republican primaries for the Attorney-General nomination, had played largely on the part of New York state officials in breaking up the pool which he charged was taking large sums from residents of Massachusetts.

A mass of documentary evidence, brought by the Boston attorney, was taken to the office of Lyman H. Barnes, Albany attorney, where Mr. Barnes said it was to be copied. Previous to that Mr. Barnes conferred with William H. McKelvey, former Times newspaperman of Washington, who three years ago wrote a series of articles about the pool.

WITNESS CHARGE FRAUD.

This evidence, as listed by Mr. Barnes, included "pool" dogs, sheets and tickets and other material collected by Mr. McKelvey in his original investigation, in which the story of funds, letters from New York State officials are included, the witness claiming to have been defrauded of $10,000 and $10,000.

Mr. Barnes mentioned a telegram from Col. Theodore Roosevelt, which he said, would sustain his charges. It said also that George W. French, chairman of the Albany county Republican organization, had promised cooperation in a letter.

AIMEE M'PHERSON FINDS PARIS IS NOT SO WICKED

Paris, Sept. 20 (AP)—Paris, the so-called modern Babylon, does not appear to be as wicked as represented. Mrs. Aimee M'Pherson, Los Angeles evangelist, formed those who inquired today about her impressions.

Paris, she said, seemed to be hard working.

The only thing that mildly shocked Mrs. M'Pherson was the number of what she termed "open bars."

Interviewers assumed she meant the cafes.

BRIGHT COLORS ARE SYMBOL OF MODERN LIFE

The present mode of bright colors in clothing and interior furnishings is a symbol of the vital life of the present generation, Grace W. Hiler of Boston declared today at the 12th annual National Business Conference, Boston Park, Wellesley.

Her address was one of several devoted to color in the psychology of merchandising.

"All women have become color fast," she said. "The women of Napoleon have very little color advantage over women on a New England North shore beach. There are no more strongly color fastnesses than New Englanders no longer match rabbits."

"We want our lives modernized," she said. "Bright colors will modernize the colors which the individuality of some lives demands. We want to be color mad—but our color wildness is a symbol of vital living. Color trends symbolize through changes."

Strange color-trends—no crude shades—will be in vogue this season, she said. "Bright colors will be seen in the reds which are no longer rare. Green in subtle shades will be worn, as will brown, orange, cream and white."

Women's dress determines the colors of the modern life.

Awarded $300 From Opposition Company for Collision

George Turkman of Chestnut St., Chelsea, a Western Union telegraph messenger, will collect $300 from the Postal Telegraph, because a Postal messenger's bicycle was in collision with the bicycle he was riding, in front of the Copley Plaza Hotel, two yeagons.

Turkman was injured in collision and he brought the successful suit against the empire of the other boy. It is the focus of his kind on record in Suffolk County courts.

Trend in colors in interior accessories, she said.

Henry John Clayton, weather forecaster, predicts a wet and slightly warmer weather, September 20, with moderate weather lasting perhaps a week.

November will be cold and dry, but not too cold, if present solar conditions, he said.

GRUNDY TAKES ON STATE SECRETARY

HOLD MOTHER AND YOUTH IN FARM KILLINGS

Los Angeles, Sept. 20 (AP)—The search for human bones and other evidence to substantiate the sinister story of the Northwest murder farm was temporarily suspended today by the arrest of a 25-year-old youth and his mother, who were arrested in California yesterday.

The district attorney's office today began extradition proceedings against Gordon Stuart Northcott, a boy, and his mother, Mrs. Louise Northcott.

Northcott had been sought for nearly a week. The former has been named in the story of the murder of a young woman on a chicken farm at Riverside.

Murder charges have been brought here against both.

Authorities here were confident that the youth arrested in Vernon, N. C., and the woman held in California, were the two principals named in the story of the murder of a young woman on a chicken farm at Riverside, N. C., under the identity of a boy named Northcott.

Immediately following reports of the arrest here, Los Angeles district attorney, Charles E. Young, ordered that search of the records of the state prison be made for a Northcott family.

Los Angeles authorities were confident that a boy named Northcott, who was arrested in Vernon, N. C., and the woman held in California, were the two principals named in the story of the murder of a young woman on a chicken farm at Riverside, N. C., under the identity of a boy named Northcott.

ASK HOWEY TO COORDINATE IN MAKE SPEECHES IN THE SOUTH

SMITH TO RAP 'BOLTERS' IN OKLAHOMA

Oklahoma City, Sept. 20 (AP)—Hearst with recollections of another hectic day of "meeting and greeting" consisting, carried out into the night through the Kansas farm belt, Governor Alfred E. Smith was in the northern state of Oklahoma today prepared for his second full day of the presidential campaign in Oklahoma City.

The Democratic presidential nominee walked last night on an advance manuscript between welcome demonstrations of more than half a dozen Kansas cities, including Topeka, home of Senator Charles McNary, Republican vice-presidential candidate.

There were indications that he intended to make his stand here one of the most important of his Western tour, probably taking a shot at party bolters and countering against critics of his public record.

His campaign headquarters, which has shared Oklahoma politics in recent years, also was on the list of many as a possible theme.

Oklahoma City was prepared to give Governor Smith a big ovation, as well as conferences with state political leaders at the Hotel Hudson.

Where headquarters for the campaign and his party was established, Mr. Smith was to be met by Governor Henry Johnston of Oklahoma, a Democrat, and all living former Governors of the State, except two, located the route at Topeka to accompany the nominee to Oklahoma City.

Others in the welcoming group included Sen. Fred D. Dingle, Democratic national committeeman of Oklahoma; George D. Keir, state chairman; Mr. H. A. McDougall, national committeeman; and Mrs. Kelly Brown, state vice-chairman.

After stops at Lincoln and Fairbury, Neb., Governor Smith's train was halted for rear platform appearances at Billings, Casper, Cheyenne and Manhattan, Kan.

Smith gave the nominee a hand at every station, but he stuck to his resolution to make no speeches. He declined the greatest turn-out of the observation car to the Governor, his wife, and his daughter, Mrs. Smith.

At midnight Topeka was reached and it was there that Governor Smith witnessed the greatest turn-out of the Kansas journey. His train was halted for rear platform appearances at Billings, Casper, Cheyenne and Manhattan, Kan.

Braves and Reds to Try Again Today

Life has become an endless succession of double headers for our hapless Braves. Still staggered by the effect of two twin bills in as many playing days, the Braves and Cubs, they must now engage in three games with the Cincinnati Reds, starting this p.m.

Billy McCarney Insists De Mave Will Come Through With Kayo Smash

By JACK CONWAY

PAULINO, and faced Spanish moonchopper, has been offered a bout with the winner of the 10-round battle between Jim Maloney and Jack De Mave which will be staged in the Argonne A. A. at Braves field tomorrow night.

Paulino, a head of my own race, is the favorite of the crowd, and I have agreed to fight on the dotted line in which I stand in the ring.

MENU

OF GOOD THINGS SERVED BY HART SCHAFFNER & MARX THIS FALL

Two colors—GRENADIER BLUE—a new grey-blue; CHIPPENDALE BROWN—derived from those rich tones of antique furniture

Another color—STONE GREY—the shades of old English cathedrals and abbeys

A pattern—UNIVERSITY STRIPES—with no hint of loudness, but with the life, sparkle and youthfulness of tastefully blended college colors

Another pattern—AGATE STRIPES—suggesting the modest varied stripes which make the natural beauty of agate stone

A weave—BABYLONIAN—inspired by the terrace effects in Babylonian buildings. As modern as the "set-back" architecture of New York

A fabric—MOTOR TWIST—which hardly seems to be merely a fabric, it wears so long and well. It defies wind and rain; looks smart

An idea—RANDOM DYE—Yarns dyed without uniformity of tone, used in irregular weaves. The effect has been called just modernistic enough for gentlemen; it has the proper restraint

More colors, more patterns, more weaves, more fabrics, more and more ideas. All under the Hart Schaffner & Marx label; you know what that means

SEE HUG FURNITURE MART

FOR BOSTON IN NEW NORTH STATION BUILDING

NEW FURNITURE MART PLANNED FOR BOSTON

The largest furniture mart of its kind in the world, to be housed in the new North Station industrial building, was the goal declared by the Home Furnishers Association at its 22nd annual meeting and banquet held at Hotel Somerset.

The mart will occupy five of the upper floors.

And for the project, the hearty cooperation of the New England Council and the Boston & Maine railroad was promised, through their respective presidents, John S. Lawrence and George Hennessey.

"With the furnishing of the new mart still under way by our associates and their customers, Boston's new mart should grow to be the largest of its kind in the world, in making the announcement."

"Further the present good will and success to your business and mine is assured."

H. & W. WOULD ASSIST

President Hennessey called attention to the possibilities of the new mart and told of plans of the railroad to increase service and improve conditions that it might be able to handle.

"A wholesale line move in drawn to the attention of the mart, and to the fact that the mart is a product of the mart."

"The mart is a product of the mart, and to the fact that the mart is a product of the mart."

MARTHA CLASS HEARS CHEF

There was a whirlwind tour only in the Martha Lee Kitchen yesterday afternoon when the pastry chef, Chef Schneider, gave a demonstration in the Martha Lee Kitchen.

"I am glad to have the officers of your association call on me."

"I am glad to have the officers of your association call on me."

TO BE CLOSED AFFAIR

The mart is to be a closed one, Treasurer Victor A. Heath, president of the association, announced. The facilities will be available only to members of the association.

"The modern method of doing business is on the level," he said. "President Lawrence of the New England Council told of the ideas and plans of his organization and expressed his interest in the new furniture project."

"Any way the New England Council can assist in the way it will be done," he said.

CHAIN STORE IS ROBBED

Thieves paid their second visit to the chain store in the city, when they broke into the store at 204 Center st., Boston, today. Forcing a rear door while the manager laid the store closed for lunch, they took $35 from the cash register. A woman who was in the store at the time of the robbery said she saw the thieves enter the store.

NATIONAL POLICIES OF THE HEARST NEWSPAPERS

1. An agreement of English-speaking peoples to preserve peace among themselves and promote the peace of the world.
2. A constitutional amendment to provide for the election of United States Senators in numbers proportionate to the population of each State, but no State to have less than two Senators. A reapportionment of Congressional representation immediately by after every census, or in case of the failure of Congress so to act, to make the apportionment automatic at the end of the first Congressional session, the proportion of population for each representative in each case to be that of the existing Congress.

3. A separate Department of the Army, of the Navy and of the Air Forces, all united under a Secretary of National Defence.

4. Federal action to the limit of Federal Government powers to abolish slavery among the people of the United States, and the creation of a Secretary of Education.
5. Necessary measures to secure the election of Congress in November and its installation on the 1st of January following, and the inauguration of a President on the 1st of January immediately following his election in November.

The Box Office Figures

They Show That This Is One Presidential Year That Is NOT "Bad for Business"

Secretary Mellon's recent announcement that American business as a whole was prospering and facing a favorable outlook was not campaign bumcombe.

It is sustained by incontestable proof—the box office figures.

Industrial earnings covering a representative range of production are now available for comparison by first half years in 1927 and 1928. They show a net gain for the latter over the earlier period of 4.3 per cent.

Separating these periods into their two quarters we have the further encouraging fact that the second quarter of this year showed a much better earning trend as compared with the first quarter than was true in the corresponding quarters of last year.

In other words, the trend is upward. In the last half of 1927 it was distinctly downward.

This, too, in face of the widespread, though not necessarily accurate, belief that "Presidential years are bad years for business."

This Presidential year thus far has decidedly NOT been "bad for business."

Never can all kinds of business in a country so vast and varied as our own be at a uniform level of prosperity. The business as a whole will always resemble a big city sky line. But the important thing to realize is that the average welfare of the American people is not sagging.

It will not sag after November if we keep sane.

A Cheerful Swede

And a Brave Man

THIS IS CAPTAIN LUNDBORG

The whole world has read about Lundborg, the brave Swede, who flew to the far north, landed his plane on the dangerous, broken ice and carried General Noble to safety. That should have been enough achievement in one man's life, but it wasn't enough for the Swede, Lundborg.

Having saved Noble, he immediately went back, tried another "impossible" landing, smashed up his plane and found himself buried in the Arctic, in place of the man he had saved. This is printed to show you how a brave man takes things calmly.

Stranded, his machine smashed beyond mending, with little or no hope of being rescued, Lundborg, the Swede, settles down cheerfully, smokes his pipe and waits to see what will turn up. He's the man in front, in the picture.

It is the spirit shown by many other Swedes, a race often misunderstood in this country.

It is the spirit that carried Charles the Twelfth with a handful of men through Poland and Russia, on to Turkey. It is the spirit that made Charles defy the whole Turkish power, Sultan, army and all, lock himself in his house and threaten to set fire to it to burn himself up rather than surrender.

A good Swede is a good friend, good fighter, brave man. Lundborg proves it, although no proof was necessary.

What Will Bring Peace?

More Deadly Weapons

Men build armor that no cannon can pierce, then bigger cannon to pierce that armor. Then stronger armor, and so it goes.

The Germans are testing an automatic radio warship steered by radio, all engines, pumps operated by radio from a vessel accompanying it, torpedoes fired by radio. It will carry a cargo of cork to prevent sinking, and not a man will be on the ship.

That will be met by bomb-dropping airplanes, piloted by radio, no man in the plane. War eventually will become scientific, and absolutely deadly. Then it will end. Men, having "the drop" on each other, will hold their fire.

Seeing America First

O.O. MONTRE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—To me the most arresting feature of San Francisco are its hills and fog. I'm already slightly homesick from lifting my eyes to the hills. A city set on hills is exciting, an every traveler knows who has visited Athens, Jerusalem, Rome and Naples.

Julian Street in his "Almond Blossom" wrote: "With her hills San Francisco is Rome, with her harbor she is Naples; with her hills she is New York." A trifle exaggerated, but gives you a rough idea. From any point I can see through the mist a half dozen inspiring peaks.

A fog has a charming and mysterious quality when it seeps into this cyclonic setting. There is no feeling of depression as in London but instead a stimulating buoyancy.

Imagination plays pranks. You want to go prowling and meet a mysterious lady in black, search for stolen pearls, ride in the moonlight, etc.

Not till you are a view house, however, does the best of the harbor, Alcatraz and Golden Gate and other activities within the bay and Golden Gate, Russian Hill is the favorite place of writing folk and visitors. It is long, but it is so soon over—I've been peering from the top of Russian Hill.

Telegraph Hill is a rugged slope where peaks furnish material for sea wall. Twin Peaks have a manner as if they were old friends.

Golden Gate is fine picture postcard stuff and the best view of all is from the crest of the aptly named Divisadero Vista Park.

It is the highest of San Francisco's hills, but from here one may see the somewhat tragic Lone Mountain with its white cross, Lake Merced in its surrounding and of enclosures. Tamalpais faintly outlined in robes of cloudy drapery—that's the turning point where the bay, ocean and spreading hills of the Presidio.
